

Evaluation of the economic impact of the implementation of the protocol for the control of invasive alien and exotic species and ciguatoxin at first sale points in the Canary Islands

Year:	2023
Location:	Canary Islands (Spain)
Client:	Gestión del Medio Rural / Canarian Government
Description:	Quantitative and qualitative analysis comparing the initial situation (non-existence of protocol) with the current situation in the different stages of the supply chain: i) point of first sale and primary distribution; ii) wholesale distribution; and, iii) retail and restaurants. Conducting interviews with representatives of the supply chain to extract information and develop the analysis: <ul style="list-style-type: none">a) Quantitative information on ciguatoxin testingb) Direct costs of the implementation of the Protocolc) Estimation of the indirect economic impact of the protocold) Conclusions and recommendations